COLUMBIA, KENTUCKY, WEDNESDAY, JULY 30, 1919.

The Chautauqua.

The Community Chautauqua opened a little late, but when it started, Tuesday night, it entertained in a very delightful manner the remainder of the week. The company could not have asked for a larger attendance, as the tent was full, and many sat upon the outside throughout the five days. The music was inspiring, the reading of the "Country Cousin," by Jeannette Kling, in a master play by Booth Tarkington, was faultlessly given and was highly appreciated. The lecturers throughout the week were educational and delivered in a most captivating manner. The Floyds did some very mysterious tricks on the second day. In fact the whole program was carried out to the satisfaction of all in attendance, and when the week closed, on Saturday night, everybody was glad that the Community Chautauqua had afforded this locality an opportunity to spend five afternoons and nights most delightfully.

The last meet was the most entertaining day of the week.

Our people were so well pleased with the Chautauqua throughout, that an agreement was signed for its return next year.

Vote for Ryland Musick.

Democrats in every voting precinct in the county are called upon to vote for Ryland C. Musick for Attorney General and help make a winning ticket for November. Pass the word to your neighbor.—Political Advertisement.

Heed this Notice.

We want some one in each precinct in Adair county to call the exchange at Columbia, give the vote in the Congressional race, the Governor's race, the Lieutenant Governor's race and all the other contests. Do not neglect this very important matter, as the vote will be immediately sent to the Daily papers. Remember, call the exchange, at Columbia, and give the vote over the phone. This little favor will be highly appreciated by the Adair County News.

A Bargain.

I new chilled plow for sale No. 20. Come at once.

S. F. Eubank.

Mr. Winter's and wife were the drawing cards at the Chautauqua last Wednesday. The former recites most entertainingly, and as a story teller, he has but few equals in manner and speech. What makes a story good, is the way you tell it. Mr. Winter's, certainly has the gift of entertaining. His wife is a professional whistler, an imitator she knows the song of every bird, and she whistles them to perfection. This couple was complimented by the entire audience.

Mr. Guy Detrick, the gentlemanly Superintendent of the Community Chautauqua, was in the News office Thursday morning and stated that he was perfectly delighted with the attendance here each day and night. He further stated that in looking over the audience on this day, he remarked to one of his associates, "I never saw a more attractive body of ladies, every face showing intelligence and good breeding."

J. H. Squires, of Knifley, this county, bought of J. W. Sublett & Bros., last Thursday the farm known as the homestead of the late Branch Sublett, situated below Coburg, but in the edge of Green county, for about $10,000. Possession will be given first of the year.

Republicans are making an effort to reduce the Democratic majority in the Eighth District. The Democrats should work the harder to increase it. If they all go to the polls on next Saturday Judge Hardin's majority will not be less than 3,000.

Vote for Hardin and vote early.

A Message From Our Governor.

Kentucky's Governor issued the following message of encouragement and appreciation of the moonlight school teachers and those who are fighting to wipe out Kentucky's illiteracy before the census of 1920 is taken:

"While the countries of Europe rebuild their ruined cities and rehabilitate their industries, it is our privilege in the United States to rehabilitate the lives of our fellow citizens. One of the most necessary and most noble of reconstruction tasks is to teach all those who are unable to read and write. We must do this before the Commonwealth and the nation can make great advancement."

The teachers and citizens of Kentucky are pioneers in this movement, which has now become nation-wide and has even been adopted in other countries. The movement which they have so unselfishly fostered, demands the best that is in us all at this time when the last battle of this crusade against illiteracy in Kentucky is being waged.

I honor the moonlight school teachers and set a high value upon the service which they are volunteering to render to humanity and to the state. May that service enrich their own lives as much as it will bless their fellow-men and the great Commonwealth of Kentucky.

James D. Black, Governor.
July 18, 1918.

Marriage Licenses.

The following marriage license was issued from the Adair county clerk's office since our last report: Charley Fields and Lula Jesse. Marcus McQueary and Myrtle Shepherd. Jas. A. Bailey and Mary Burton. Sidney O. Collins and Ona E. Aaron.

N. H. Watson, who lives near Columbia, returned from France on the 17th of July. He was in France one year, and participated in three battles Marne-Aines, Osis Arus, Meuse Argonne. These are three of the noted battles. He was in the Army of Occupation, on Rhine, six months. He states that the battles he engaged in were terrific but he did not get a scratch, and had fine health during the whole of the time he was in the service.

There is quite a bit of talk by people living on the line, about automobile driving along the Stanford pike at a late hour of nights. It is all right to take automobile rides, but night pleasure trips should not be made by young people unless there are three to four machines in a bunch, and a chaperon with the party. Unwholesome remarks often destroys the character of girls, hence it behooves them to be very prudent.

There are more sickly colored men who hang about Columbia than any other town of its population in the State. Ask one to take pay for a small job, time, ten or fifteen minutes, and the answer comes, "I am not able." This winter when they are sure to be out of meat and flour, they will call upon whites for help. They should be answered, "I am not able."

The Government trucks that have been awarded to counties for road purposes, are being delivered over the State. Adair has not got hers yet, but we take it that it will come in soon. The county will have to send to the designated point for it. The counties that sent after them went to Jeffersonville, Ind.

The President of the United States and the Democratic Representatives have their eyes on the Eighth Congressional district. They want to see it roll up an increased majority for Judge Hardin.

Farmers who are busy can go to the polls and vote, then return to their work, losing but little time.

The Chautauqua has come and gone. It was a good one.

Married Thursday.

Miss Carrie Willin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Willian, and Mr. Bribe Walker, a grandson of Mr. Clint Walker, all the parties of Glenville, this county, were married at the home of Eld. Z. T. Williams, this city Thursday. The bride is a popular musician, and was educated at the Lindsey-Wilson. The groom is a returned soldier, and has many friends in his home community. They will reside at Glenville.

Farm for Sale.

My farm containing 97 acres. Near Roy, Ky. on Russells creek. Also 2 milch cows fresh and other cattle.

U. L. Antle,

Roy, Ky.

Camp Daniel Boone.

A Bible Conference, under Auspices of Y. M. C. A. will be held at Camp Daniel Boone Aug. 6-9. This Camp is on the Ky. River near Richmond. Speakers of note will be there.

Bro. Watson is working up several "car loads" of Adair Co. young men to motor over and get the full benefit of the conference. See him or Guy Stevenson and join the party. Rates very reasonable.

Big Auction Sale

We will sell at Columbia, Ky., Monday, Aug. 4th beginning promptly at 1:30 P. M. one car load of Nebraska Percheron pasture-raised mares broken and unbroken, ages range from 3 to 5 years, weight from 1,000 to 1,300 pounds. This is a golden opportunity to secure some first-class brood mares and also some good driving and work horses. Don't forget the date, Monday August 4, as we will sell rain or shine.

Neal Bros.

Lawrence C. Sullivan, of Russell Springs, a graduate of Georgetown College, and also of the Lindsey-Wilson, and is well-known in Columbia, has accepted the position of Director of Athletics in Newberry, College Newberry, S. C. It is the Standard Presbyterian College in that State. Prof. Sullivan is a clean young man and his former school mates here in Columbia will be glad to hear of his advancement.

In talking to one of Adair's prosperous farmers, last Thursday, he said: "Crops have not been worked this season as much as common, but notwithstanding there has been neglect upon the part of many farmers, the crops throughout the county are unusually good."

The social given a few days ago by Miss Edna Lewis, in honor of Miss Lillian Lortz, of Louisville, and Mrs. Edgar W. Reed, this place, was a very delightful affair. The hours were spent in social converse, and before the departing time, choice refreshments were served.

Fire alarm sounded, one evening last week, creating quite a bit of excitement, but fortunately it was only the burning of a brush pile, in the neighborhood of the Graded School building.

Adair is evidently an attractive county. From two to four people are here every week, looking for farms. They want them close to town on account of our educational facilities.

Judge Hardin will be a leader in Congress. He has the ability and his Democracy is untarnished. Go to the polls and see that your neighbor Democrats do likewise.

Scott Montgomery sold his residence and land attached, on Jamestown street, last Saturday, to S. C. Neat. Consideration, $3,300. Possession will be given Oct 1st.

Second Sunday afternoon, in August there will be a singing at Zion, conducted by Profs. E. O. Cabell and Joel Darnell. Every body invited.

Southern Baptist Go In for Mammoth Sum.

As the Southern Baptist Convention in Atlanta, Georgia, in May, with more than 5,000 Baptists assembled, it was unanimously decided to raise 75 million dollars, for missions, in home and foreign lands; for their more than 130 educational institutions; for their many orphanages and hospitals; for their aged ministers; and for the National Memorial Church dedicated to Roger Williams and Religious Liberty, to be built in Washington. A Campaign Commission was appointed, with Dr. George W. Truett, pastor First Baptist Church, Dallas, Texas, as Chairman, and one member from each of the Southern States.

At a meeting in Atlanta, Georgia, early in June, the Commission met and made out plans for raising the 75 million dollars. Dr. L. R. Scarborough, president of the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, Ft. Worth, Texas, was elected General Director, and his headquarters established at Nashville, Tennessee. Five of the Commissioners were appointed as Campaign Directors, to whom the details of organization were committed. Mr. J. H. Anderson, of Knoxville, Tennessee, a wealthy merchant, was made Chairman.

These Campaign Directors have elected the following leaders to cooperate with General Scarborough in the Campaign: B. C. Hening, of North Carolina; Assistant General Director; T. B. Ray, of Virginia, Survey Director; H. C. Moore, of Tennessee, Publicity Director; Mrs. W. J. Neel, W. M. U. Organizer; J. A. General Organizer is yet to be selected.

At a meeting composed of nearly 200 representatives from every phase of the denomination's life and work, in Nashville, Tennessee, July 2nd and 3rd, a complete program and organization for the campaign were effected.

Each of the Southern States will be organized, with the State Secretary of Missions as the General Director for that state. He will be aided by a General Organizer and a Publicity Man, and an Advisory Campaign Committee, made up of the three persons above named, the Campaign Commissioner from that state, the editor of the Baptist paper, the Secretary and Vice-President of the Women's Work, and the Chairman of the Laymen's organization. It will be the duty of these State Organizers to organize the sub-divisions in each state, called Associations or Districts. Each of these Associations or Districts will have an Organizer and a Publicity Director, and these will organize the churches, with a General Director, and these will organize the churches, with a General Director, preferably the pastor; and an Organizer, some select layman; and an Organizer representing the Women's Work. All these organizations are to be aided by volunteer workers, from among men and women.

The name of the campaign is "Baptist 75 Million Campaign." The time for the big drive will be November 30th to December 7th. This will be called "Victory Week," at which time cash and pledges payable in 5 years are to be raised to the amount of more than 75 million dollars. All the general organizations, The Foreign Mission Board at Richmond, Virginia, the Home Mission Board at Atlanta, Georgia, the Educational Board at Birmingham, Alabama, the Old Ministers' Relief Board, at Dallas, Texas, the Laymen's Board, at Knoxville, Tennessee, the Woman's Missionary Union Board, at Baltimore, Maryland, and all the state organizations are throwing themselves full length and full strength into the campaign.

Three million Baptists are to go in and put it over. It is to be the greatest and most meaningful movement ever inaugurated by Southern Baptists. Its issues to the cause of Christ are incalculable. This money will help every phase of religious life represented by Baptists throughout the whole world. It is expected that every Baptist Church, more than 25 thousand of them, and every Baptist member, more than 3 million, will put themselves in a great fashion into this movement.

An Old Citizen Passes.

Last Sunday night at 11 o'clock, M. Charles L. Rice, his given name better known as Phee, died at his home on Campbellsville pike, one mile from Columbia. He was 85 years old and was reared in the Fairplay country where the remains were interred in the presence of quite a number of friends. He had been an invalid for several years. He leaves a wife and several children by former wives. Peace to his memory.

Died in Old Masons Home.

Last Saturday afternoon Mr. John A. Johnson, who was a native of Taylor county, but who lived in Cane Valley section a number of years, died in the Old Masons Home, Shelbyville. He would have been 93 years old had he lived until next November. His remains were brought to Cane Valley and interred Masonically. He was a true, Christian gentleman and left many friends.

A man signing his name, J. R. Sims sent from Nell a letter to this office last week for publication. There was no truth in this letter, as we learn from good citizens of Nell, and Mr. Sim will oblige this office by not again mailing it a communication. There are no better people than those who reside at Nell, and we are sorry that the letter was published.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pyle came down from Lincoln county Friday, and on Sunday there was a reunion at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Breeding, this place, all their children and son-in-laws being present. A bountiful dinner was prepared and a joyous day spent.

Ice cream supper next Friday night August 1st, at Rocky Hill School House. The Cane Valley band will furnish the music. A good time for every body who will attend.

Farm for Sale.

It is located one mile east of Columbia. See Scott Montgomery.

Work on the pike to the Taylor county line is badly needed. The travelling public say that it is robbery to collect toll on Adair's end.

Vote for Judge C. A. Hardin for Congress next Saturday. Quit your work long enough to be at the polls. Your vote is needed.

Some officer of the election in his precinct will please see that Saturday's vote is sent to the Columbia Exchange as soon as counted.

Cottage for rent.

W. F. Cartwright.

Tim White, who was well known about Tarter, this county, died on July 8. He left a wife and four children.

The property sold to Mr. S. D. Barbee, in the mill district, was owned by Mr. G. M. Stevenson.

Gill & Grasham bought 100 sheep from Stephenson & Mann, Rowena, last week, at 12 cents.

Russell county has received her government road truck, and the road overseers propose to use it.

The square promaders are creating too much talk. A little indiscretion often brings detriment.

Mr. R. W. Shirely, of Miltown, says crops never looked better in his locality.

The Adair County Teachers' Institute will convene here Monday, August 18th.

Let no Democratic fail to vote in the Congressional race next Saturday.

It is very important that every Democrat vote on next Saturday.

24. MULES. 24.

At Auction.

I will hold my next auction sale at my barn in Columbia, Ky., on Monday Aug. 4th and will offer at the mercy of the public, for the high dollar 20 head of good yearling and two year old mules. Also 2 pair good heavy work mules five and six years old. Sale begins promptly at 2 o'clock p. m.

S. M. Burdette.

Eld. Lawrence Williams of Belmont, Tex., will preach at Cane Valley next Sunday. He will visit his father, Z. T. Williams and other relatives in the county the first two weeks in August, and will preach here the second Sunday in August. He will then go to Cave City to visit his brother and sister and hold a meeting at Hiseville with his brother-in-law, Kirby Smith, who is pastor of that church.

The United Chief Oil and Gas Company, of Texas, has a conspicuous "ad" in to-days News. This company is under the same management as the Texas Chief which has just paid a 390 per cent dividend. Mr. G. M. Gillespie and Ford K. Spurlock are now here selling stock in the United Chief Oil and Gas Company. A chance for those who want to make big money to invest.

If you want a good pair of yearling mules or two year old mules attend Burdette's sale at his barn in Columbia Ky., next Monday August 4th. Mules were never scarcer than at the present time and the indications are that they will be scarcer and higher when the foreign demand is supplied from this country.

More garden truck has been grown and is growing in Columbia than has been for several years in the past. The vegetables will be mighty good this coming winter.

Rev. R. V. Bennett went to Louisville, last week and purchased $700 worth of furnishings for the two dormitories of the Lindsey-Wilson.

Attention is called to the advertisement of the opening of the Lindsey-Wilson. The catalogues will be ready for distribution the last of this week.

Mr. W. H. Shipp, who is a hustling business man, is now citizen of Columbia. He and family are occupying the Baptist parsonage.

Neal Bros. will sell at auction in Columbia next Monday one car load of Percheron mares.

Don't fail to attend Burdette's mule sale at his barn in Columbia next Monday, Aug. 4th.

Don't fail to attend Neal Bros. big auction sale of mares next Monday.

Russell & Co. makes an announcement in this weeks News.

The Meeting at Garlin has been removed to White Oak.

NOTES ON ADAIR COUNTY.

BY JOHN AVROE STEELE

No. 25.

THE LAMPTONS AND THE CLEMMONS.

Miss Pamela Goggins was a belle in Virginia, for whose hand in marriage Samuel B. Clemmons and Simon Hancock were strong rivals. Clemmons was the lucky winner and her hand was bestowed upon him in marriage. The eldest child of the marriage, was John Marshall Clemmons. Samuel B. Clemmons was assisting a neighbor to erect a log building, when one of the logs fell upon Clemmons and crushed out his life. His wife was thus left a widow, with a limited amount of property and with several small children, who were dependent upon her for support and education. When Simon Hancock lost to his rival the hand of Miss Goggins, he came to Adair county and secured and opened a place for cultivation. Thereafter a brother of Mrs. Clemmons (Miss Goggins) came out from their home in Virginia, and secured a new home by the purchase of a farm, which adjoined that of Hancock. When Mrs. Clemmons was left a widow by the unfortunate death of her husband, her brother, in Adair county, invited her to come and reside with him. She accepted the invitation and brought her children with her. When thrown in association with her old lover, Simon Hancock, the old flame sprang up in Hancock, and he again sought her hand in marriage. His second suit was successful and they were married. John Marshall Clemmons grew to young manhood upon the farm of his step-father, Hancock, about three miles from Columbia. He studied for the bar, and was granted a license to practice law by the Adair circuit court. He wooed and won the hand of Jane Lampton in marriage. She was then an acknowledged belle and had many suitors for her hand. They resided in Columbia, for a time and then removed to Gainesboro, Tennessee, where a cousin of the wife, Dr. Nathan Montgomery, then resided. At Gainesboro, their eldest child, Orion Clemmons, was born. From there, they removed to Fentress county, Tennessee, which lies upon the Cumberland Mountains, and there, their two daughters, Pamela and Margaret, were born. They resided, for a time, in a large log house upon Wolf's river, in Fentress county, Tennessee, where their son, Benjamin, was born. Their son, Samuel B. Clemmons was named for his grandfather, who lost his life in Virginia. He was born at Florida, Mo. John Marshall Clemmons died in Missouri. In the late seventies, Mrs. Clemmons and her old friends and relatives at Columbia, a visit. A lady, who was one of those visited by her, thus described her at that time. "She was beautiful even in old age; complexion as fair as a girl's, with gray curls on each side of her face, set off with a dainty little cap, made her an attractive picture. In manner, she was quiet, with quaint, old-fashioned ways. She was an elegant and beautiful woman."

She was rather witty and animated in conversation, but her words came out with rather a long drawl. She died, at the home of her son, in Keokuk, Iowa, at eighty-eight years of age.

The fact, that the parents and one of the grandparents of Samuel B. Clemmons, better known as Mark Twain, were reared and married there, has caused a belief upon the part of many, that the great humorist, himself, was a native of the county. This belief led a gentleman, who is now (1919) a prominent business man of Louisville, Ky., into an embarrassing situation. While a high gentleman, with many worthy qualities, he is a very positive character, especially about his information. He is one of those positive men, whose information consists of nothing but facts, and he has no opinions nor beliefs. At the time, that the mother of Mark Twain made the visit to Columbia, mentioned above, the gentleman engaged in a conversation with several ladies upon a train, without the knowledge that Mrs. Clemmons was one of them. When, for some reason, the name of Mark Twain was mentioned, the gentleman promptly volunteered the information, that Mark Twain was born at Columbia. Mrs. Clemmons quietly demurred to the correctness of the assertion; and said that he must be mistaken. He very positively declared, that he was not mistaken, that he had been shown the house at Columbia in which Twain was born, and that his information came from persons, who were perfectly reliable, and could not have been mistaken in their information. Mrs. Clemmons very quietly begged pardon, and said, that she must have been laboring under a mistake herself for a long time, but that she was the mother of Mark Twain, and had always believed, until then, that his birth had occurred in Florida, Missouri.

COL. WILLIAM OWENS.

Col. William Owens, was a noted lawyer and politician of Adair county. He was born in Fauquier county, Virginia, on the fourth day of May, 1773. He was a nephew of the celebrated Simon Kenton, who brought him to Kentucky when he was ten years of age, in 1783. When Gen. Anthony Wayne made his campaign against the Indians, in Ohio, Owens was a captain in Wayne's army, and participated in the various marches and battles, which occurred in that campaign. He is reputed to have been a very fine soldier. After obtaining a license to practice law, he, at the first, opened an office for the practice of his profession, at Danville, Kentucky, but, in the year, 1807, he removed to Columbia, where he resided until his death, which occurred on the 7th day of November, 1847, when his age was seventy-four years. His was a very strong and original character. His education was limited, but the strong, native, commonsense, served to supply many of the defects, which grew out of his meager education. The older people in the county still relate anecdotes in regard to him, which, in a way, illustrates some phases of his character. After coming to Kentucky, he made several visits to his native state, the greater part of the way, at that time, being through a howling wilderness. His preparations for maintaining himself on the way consisted, in providing himself with a good rifle, ammunition, a large pone of corn bread, and a bottle of gravy. His wife was Mary McClain, of New Castle, Henry county, whom he married in 1805. He represented Adair in the Kentucky Senate from 1815 until 1824. In 1826, he made an unsuccessful campaign for a seat in the Federal Congress, in which he was defeated by Judge Richard Buckner. He served as a Commonwealth's Attorney, for many years.

DR. NATHAN GAITHER.

Dr. Nathan Gaither was born in Rowan county, North Carolina, in the year, 1788. His father, Nicholas Gaither, was a soldier of the Revolution, and was a major in the army, which defeated the British forces at the battle of King's Mountain, and participated in that battle. Dr. Nathan Gaither came to Kentucky in the year, 1808, and became a resident of the town of Columbia, where he lived and practiced his profession until his death, which occurred on the 12th day of August, 1862. He was a soldier of the war of 1812-1815, and served as the surgeon of Col. Barbee's regiment. He was elected and served several terms in the General Assembly, as the representative of Adair county in that body, and was, also, elected to, and served as a member of the constitutional convention of 1850. He was twice elected a member of the Federal Congress from the district in which Adair county was then a part, and served as a member of that body with credit and distinction. Throughout his life, he was noted for the fixedness of his opinions and the tenacity with which he adhered to them under all circumstances. He was the author of many maxims and aphorisms, some of which are repeated among the people of the county until the present day. In the earlier years of his life, he was often wont to say, "that there were three duties, which every man, in a new country, owed to it. He must marry a wife, plant an orchard, and erect a dwelling house."

When persons complained of prospects being unfavorable, and when the clouds of adversity and misfortune were lowering, he dismissed the situation with this profane philosophy: "Things get bad; they grow worse; and finally become d-d bad; but after that, they become better."

He was the father of Col. E. B. Gaither, and the grandfather of Col. E. H. Gaither, of Harrodsburg, Ky.

To Be Continued.

The Fume Question Again.

It now appears that, notwithstanding, the many reports to the contrary, the question of the disposition of Fume has not yet been finally determined and will therefore have to be further considered in connection with the Austrian Treaty. The President and Premier Lloyd George having now left France, and Premier Clemenceau having apparently withdrawn from further personal participation in Peace matters, a new council of Five has been formed with the following members: Secretary Lansing, M. Pichon, Mr. Balfour, Signor Tittoni, and Baron Makino. This body is to take charge of Peace Conference affairs for the present at least, and one of the first matters calling for consideration is that of territory taken from Austria. Signor Tittoni has made it clear that Italy will.

New Chicago-New York Air Mail Route.

The announcement is made from Washington, that the mail route from Chicago to Cleveland has been in operation since May 15 and the route was, on July 1, extended from Cleveland to New York. The first trip of 430 miles between these two cities is said to have been made at the rate of 119 miles per hour.

"Mail can now be sent by airplane from New York, leaving there about 5 a. m. and reaching Chicago about 1 p. m.," said Mr. Praeger, who also stated that most of the planes used are De Havilland fours with Liberty Motors, and having capacity of 400 pounds of mail.

In this connection it is interesting to note the fact that demonstrations have proven the practicability, by means of small parachutes of dropping airplane mail at intermediate points. There is also under consideration a plan for the establishment of elevated stations from which airplanes can take on mail without stopping. The perfections of these two new arrangements will do much to increase the popularity and general utility of the airplane mail service.

Uncle Sam Sets a Good Example

The dome of the United States Capitol at Washington is kept in excellent condition by painting it every few years. For this work forty painters are steadily employed for three months' time. Over five thousand gallons of paint are required for one coat. The reason for painting the Capitol dome at regular intervals is to prevent disintegration of metallic surface.

She Followed the Line We Sent Over the Rhine

The familiar figure in blue uniform and poke bonnet is back home to serve, after four years in khaki with the boys "Over There." Salvation Army lassies served old fashioned American dough nuts in the front line trenches, and now that the war is over they will be found again in the streets of our great cities, ready to give a helping hand to men, women and children on the down grade. The Salvation Army Home Service is now in Kentucky, outside of Louisville and Jefferson county, operating for one week.

THE QUINCY MANS., QUINCY, MASS., BUILT IN 1685.

America's classic example of a clambread building preserved for over two hundred years by careful and frequent painting. It has secret panels, chimney staircases and hiding places, said to have been used by smugglers. Later the home of great statesmen and of the famous belle, Dorothy Quincy.

LEAGUE OR WAR DECLARES FORD

MANUFACTURER MAKES IT CLEAR HE BELIEVES COVEN-ANT IS GREAT STEP.

DECLARES "WAR IS MURDER"

Whirlwind of Questions Fail to Shake Composure of Man Who Sues for Million Because He Was Called "Anarchist."

Mt. Clemens, Mich.—The high idealism of Henry Ford has freshened the proceedings of the Ford-Tribune libel case and has brought into the wearisome arguments of counsel and the dull repetition of cross-examinations, a new quality.

For a week the man who has been described as everything from an "anarchist" to the greatest patriot of his day, has been on the stand facing a merciless fire of questions.

During the reading of an article written by John Reed on Henry Ford, and published in the Metropolitan Magazine, the audience in the court chamber violated all precedent by breaking into applause and Mr. Ford, visibly embarrassed, raised his hand in protest.

Tribune counsel had endeavored to quote paragraphs from the Reed article but had been compelled, by objection of Ford attorneys, to introduce the interview in its entirety. In the main it was highly complimentary to Mr. Ford.

"Make Farmer Independent."

"What I want to do," Mr. Ford was quoted as saying, "is to make the farmer as independent as I am; independent of the banks, independent of the trusts, independent of the railroads." The audience, many of them from the surrounding farms of this community, showed visible evidence of its appreciation of that ideal.

Twice Mr. Ford, wearying of the questions having to do with his knowledge of history, said "Oh, I'll admit that I'm an ignorant idealist if you wish."

"What is an idealist?" queried Tribune counsel.

The innate goodness of the man lighted up his kindly eyes with a new light, as he leaned forward and answered slowly, "I think an idealist is one who tries to make people happy and prosperous. I think I do that a little."

Quiet, unassuming, courteous and patient, Henry Ford made a deep impression on the audience. Not once did he lose his temper under the heckling of opposing attorneys, even when their questions verged on the edge of insult. But when the examination touched on subjects which are close to his heart, the League of Nations, war and the happiness and prosperity of Humanity, counsel found him eagerly alert.

A League of Nations, or preparedness up to the hilt.

That is the way he sees the situation today. "We must either," he said, "accept the covenant of peace or democracy must arm and stand guard forever at the threshold of liberty."

"War Is Murder."

He hammered that fact home and with it he always added, "War is murder."

"I was a murderer," he said, "I was a helper of murder. When the crisis came we all took a hand. But it is all the same. War is murder."

"What do you mean by murder?"

"I mean killing people."

"Killing people to protect the interests of the people?"

"Killing anybody or anything. I don't know what else war is. War is murder. There is a far better way."

"What is the better way?"

"Why, to educate people. To teach them to think for themselves."

A long examination was conducted which sought to quiz Mr. Ford concerning his views on history, based on a remark which he once made that "I wouldn't give five cents for all the history ever written."

"I don't think much more of it now than I did then," testified Mr. Ford.

"The war showed us that history didn't last a week. All the things they told us would happen didn't happen. They went ahead, knowing what war meant, and made the same mistakes all over again. The history we write today is the thing that counts. I'm not interested in yesterday."

The Flag of Nations.

The much discussed flag of a League of Nations, which it has been stated Mr. Ford was having made in his factory before the United States entered the war, was brought into court. The testimony developed the fact that Mr. Ford did not originate the design of the flag and had never seen the banner itself. He saw a small drawing of it once in St. Paul's Cathedral, Detroit, he said, but had never heard of it again and knew nothing about it.

He denied emphatically that he ever said he would raise this flag above the Stars and Stripes, and said the statement that he revered this banner above the flag of his country was "A terrible thing to say about an American."

Red Cross Peace-Service Includes Continued Care of Returning Fighters.

SINCE the first call to arms the chief aim of the American Red Cross has been the comfort and welfare of the American boys in service.

The Red Cross as an organization has been growing with the growing needs of the soldiers, sailors and marines since the first transport started overseas.

Under the Department of Military Relief of the Red Cross a plan was formed and is being carried out which brings every possible comfort and help to the fighting men—out of lines or in-sick, well, convalescent, maimed or "whole!"

Having taken them comfortably all the way over the Red Cross will continue to provide for their welfare until the last man steps off the gang plank of the last transport or leaves the doorway of the last hospital.

Care of the returning soldier falls into three branches: Miscellaneous Service for the Comfort and Welfare of Soldiers—Home Service in the Camp—and Recreation. It is difficult to say which of these is the most important, so greatly does each depend on the other, weaving an all-covering mantle of comfort and relief that spreads over each and every soldier.

How the Red Cross Helps

The soldier is not discouraged, but he can't help thinking, as he lies there in the base hospital, with his stump of an arm or his twisted knee, and waits for the transport that will take him home.

When the day comes at last, he is carried aboard on a stretcher. Beside him are a pair of new pajamas, a Red Cross comfort kit and plenty of "smokes." Aboard there is a Red Cross man with his hands always filled with "extras." On the way to the debarkation hospital, there is the same old Red Cross smile and the succession of sandwiches, pies and coffee. At night, while the train speeds towards the army hospital near his own town, there are the canteen women at the stopping places.

When the soldier reaches the convalescent stage, there is the Red Cross house with its home-like features, easy chairs, rugs, music, games, books, newspapers and magazines—the fireplace, the sun parlor or the porch, according to the season. On fine days there is the Motor Corps that takes the soldiers for delightful country spins. It is by these many small attentions, that mean so much, that the Red Cross endeavors to make "getting well" easy. A sick or wounded soldier does not get well soon if his mind is not happily attuned and his personal troubles at rest.

Sick, convalescent or well, a soldier may have recourse to Home Service, one phase of Red Cross work. Anxiety over home affairs—uncertainty over the safety and welfare of loved ones—have done more to weaken the morale of the men than most grievous wounds received in battle, or even the endurance of short rations, or trying days and nights under fire. Red Cross Home Service endeavors to bridge the gap between the soldier and his home, and to act as the intervening agent to whom all petitions may be trusted and all cares consigned. Five hundred Red Cross Home Service representatives are working in the camps of this country and in the army hospitals, with their 50,000 patients.

Among the latest innovations are the banking agencies, established in twenty-two demobilization camps, under the authority of some nearby clearing-house or bank, enabling a discharged soldier to deposit part of his discharge money for transmission to any bank he may designate, in exchange for a non-negotiable receipt. At Camp Taylor alone, $152,215 was deposited in this way within the space of eleven days.

The breadth and scope of the Red Cross peace program, as it concerns the returning soldier, is readily appreciated. He cannot feel neglected or forlorn as long as the Red Cross is with him, and surely no possible comfort, no possible need has been overlooked. The three great arms work together amicably, smoothly, jointly, each performing the tasks that fall within its immediate field, yet extending its activity to dovetail happily with the other branches.

In the field, in the camp, in the home, the Red Cross is omnipresent wherever the soldier goes or wherever his interests lie. It knows no armistice in its fight against sickness, worry, despair or trouble.

Editor's Note:—This is the first of a series of six articles issued from the Lake Division headquarters of the American Red Cross giving official details of the peace time extension of Red Cross work in accordance with the ideal of service to humanity which is the basis of all Red Cross activity.

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

FOR CONGRESS.

C. A. HARDIN,
of Mercer County.

FOR STATE SENATOR.

19th Senatorial District
J. R. GARNETT,
of Adair County.

This is our last issue before the special election in the race for Congress between Judge C. A. Hardin and King Swope. We want to urge upon the Democratic voters of Adair county the necessity of becoming active in Judge Hardin's interest, insisting upon every man who believes in Democratic principles voting. It is true that the Eighth Congressional district is Democratic, but apathy upon the part of Judge Hardin's friends might reduce the majority. We want to see a full vote polled for the effect it will have in the coming November election. Our Democratic Representatives in Congress have their eyes on Kentucky and especially the Eighth district. They need Judge Hardin, in Washington. They know his ability, and at this time only men who are in perfect accord with the policies of President Wilson are needed in the halls of Congress.

If the Democrats of Adair county will turn out solidly for Judge Hardin, he would take it as a special compliment, as his father and uncles were born and reared in Columbia. His grandfather, Parker C. Hardin, came to this town when he was about twenty-one years old, opened a law office, and it was here that he lived and reared his children, dying when he was about seventy years old. Judge Hardin takes a great interest in Adair county people. He rejoices in their prosperity, and should calamity come he would be especially grieved. For the first time in his life he is asking the Democrats of his father's native county to give him their united support and we believe that they will do it.

There is a strong sentiment growing to organize a Turnpike Co., to build a toll Road from Columbia to the Russell Springs. The people of Columbia are vitally interested in the project and it is hoped they will get behind the plan and help put it through. An organization should be perfected at once so as to hasten the construction.

Senator Beckham made a great speech in the Upper House of the National Congress, in defense of the League of Nations.

Pitzer Black, son of Governor Jas. D. Black, who is a Republican, but naturally taking an active interest in his father's canvass states, through the press, that he will support Judge Carroll at the November election should he defeat his father for the nomination. This statement was called forth by a report gaining circulation that he would support the Republican candidate. Pitzer is busily engaged in organizing for his father, and he would be a very ungrateful son were he to fail to do otherwise.

All that Mr. Noel, of Harrodsburg, one of the Democratic candidates for Governor will get out of this contest, is, the satisfaction of knowing that the people have been made acquainted with his photograph. Also the voters of the State have been informed of a fine collection of fire arms, owned by him.

W. H. Shanks, of Stanford, is the administration candidate for Lieutenant Governor. He is a man of ability, a learned parliamentarian, the very man every Democrat in Adair county should support, by their votes, next Saturday.

Ominous Black clouds are expected to appear all over Adair county next Saturday. It is said that birds that are "Carolling" in the wind, had better take to their nests, as their will be mischief in the clouds.

The indications point to a great many Black men asserting themselves in Adair county next Saturday. Many believe that there will be an uprising.

Vote for Judge C. A. Hardin for Congress.

RETURNED SOLDIER.

Backs Judge Charles A. Hardin
And Calls on All Patriots to Stand by Him.

Private Roscoe Gaither, of Harrodsburg, passed through Danville yesterday. He is just from France, where he has been for more than a year in actual service, during which time he participated in the fighting at Voges, Meuse-Arzonne and were in support of Verdun at the time the armistice was signed. He wants it to be known he is for Judge Charles A. Hardin for Congress, and asked that the Advocate so state. He says that Judge Hardin with untiring loyalty stood by the boys at the front in speech-making, soliciting and giving. He also stated that he was against King Swope as he believed a man who was subject to draft and volunteered in the officers training camp, and who never saw overseas service, and would advertise himself and urge by letters which we literally quote: "I believe that all men who were in the service should stand together regardless of politics, and I am making my appeal to all of them," is a reflection upon the patriotism and motives of the soldiers who were fired by lofty aims of the war only to serve for their country and mankind. I am of the opinion that one who was so fortunate as to get into the officers training camp and hold a Captaincy in America without going abroad, or near the danger line, should be grateful to Uncle Sam for the fine experience and training he received without danger to himself. Col. Denhardt, who went to the front and fought in France, when he offered for Governor, never mentioned the fact, by letter or in his speeches. He reflected in his attitude the true spirit of the American soldier, who would not drag their sacred service through the mire of politics for political preferment. Judge Hardin, I am sure, will stand by the soldier boy when he gets to Congress, as he did before and that, too, without boasting."

Private Roscoe Gaither.

PROHIBITION AMENDMENT.

Editor News:-

As there seems to be some misunderstanding about the matter, I offer the following statement as to the proposed prohibition amendment to the State constitution. It seems to be doubtful whether any vote will be taken at the next election in this state.

It is true that the eighteenth amendment (known as the Prohibition Amendment) to the Constitution of the United States has been ratified by a sufficient number of States to make it part of the Federal Constitution. It was ratified by the Kentucky Legislature by Joint Resolution No. 2 at the 1919 session. This Federal amendment provides as follows:

"After one year from the ratification of this article, the manufacture, sale or transportation of intoxicating liquors within, the importation thereof into, or the exportation thereof from the United States and all territory subject to the jurisdiction thereof for beverage purposes is hereby prohibited.

"Section 2. The Congress and the several States shall have concurrent power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation."

By January 16, 1919, three-fourths of the states had ratified this amendment and the Secretary of State at Washington issued his proclamation stating that the amendment had been ratified and would take effect one year from that date, that is, on January 16, 1920.

I think there is practically no doubt that this amendment will take effect at the time stated. However, there has been a question raised as to the legality of the ratification in a number of States.

Now, as to state-wide prohibition. The 1918 session of the Legislature proposed to the people of this State the following amendment to the State Constitution.

"After June 30, 1920, the manufacture, sale or transportation of spirituous, vinous, malt or other intoxicating liquors, except for sacramental, medicinal, scientific or mechanical purposes, in the Commonwealth of Kentucky is hereby prohibited."

This amendment is to become part of the State Constitution when ratified by the voters of Kentucky. The election on this question is to be held in November, 1919. It could not be held last year, for the reason that such an amendment can be voted on only at an election at which members of the Legislature are chosen.

It would take too much space to state the reasons why I think it is important that the people should ratify this amendment to the State Constitution. It may be that national prohibition will work out all right. The chances are that it will. But certain complications in the enforcement of national prohibition are certain to arise. For instance, two words in the Federal amendment may give rise to much difficulty: the words "concurrent power" in Section 2 (see above.) Some of the difficulties that may arise in enforcing national prohibition in the state can be obviated by having state prohibition, which the state can enforce by its own methods and according to its own laws. If the people of this State want the fullest authority to enforce prohibition in their own way they should certainly adopt the prohibition amendment to the State Constitution.

Lilburn Phelps.

LED BY REACTIONARY.

Washington, July 23 (Associated Press).—The League of Nations was supported in the Senate today by Senator McKellar, Democrat, Tennessee, as one of the greatest forward steps in the Nation's history. Most of the opposition, he asserted, came from "reactionaries" of the same school as those who opposed the Federal Constitution and those who later handicapped the growth and development of the country.

"There have always been reactionaries in our country," said the Tennessee Senator, "and there have always been progressives. There have always been forward-looking men and backward-looking men. There have always been men who looked to precedents and to the past and men who looked to the future. If the reactionaries had had their way in the beginning of our Government, we probably would not have had a republic. If they had had their way the republic would never have been enlarged.

"I am not a reactionary. I am a Democrat in its most progressive sense. We ought to improve upon those who have gone before us. We have had better advantages than they had. They blazed the path. Every dictate of conscience, every dictate of humanity, every dictate of an enlightened self-interest, every dictate of a desire for peace, requires the establishment of this great world pact.

"Reactionary Republicans and reactionary Democrats who are opposing this league, don't let your hatred of any one man warp and set aside your judgment. Whatever may be said of Mr. Wilson, he has surely done great things for America. Under his administration we have become a world Power faster than in any other like period in our history. All of his work has been done for America. Let not America, who has given the great peace covenant to the world, be the only one to repudiate it."

The speaker quoted Senator Lodge's speech in the Senate last December, and declared the peace terms laid down there had been substantially embodied in the treaty. Senator Knox, he said, had desired to go even farther than the league covenant in his resolution declaring the United States would co-operate to remove any future menace to European peace.

"The real criticism of the league in the minds of its opponents in the Senate," continued Mr. McKellar, "is that Woodrow Wilson took a commanding part in the formation of the league. There may be better plans, but why haven't they been produced?"

Three incontestable reasons for the leagues, continued the Senator, are the cost of war, its sacrifice of human life and "the utter folly of creating nations in Europe without giving them the guaranty of life." He said he did not agree that Article 10 imposed only a moral obligation to go to war to preserve the integrity of members, but that it rightly imposed a legal obligation to do so.

SHANKS SHOWS WHITE FEATHER. WILL NOT MEET OLDHAM IN DEBATE.

"Bitter Disappointment to Me," Says His Opponent. "How Can He Meet the Republicans?"

As was expected here the challenge of R. C. Oldham, candidate for the Democratic nomination for Lieutenant Governor, to W. H. Shanks, his opponent, to meet him in joint debate at Owenton, was not accepted. The Interior-Journal, published in Stanford, and the paper that groomed Shanks for the race, had said that he would certainly be there. The local Courier rightly predicted in last week's issue with the statement that "Col. Oldham is a good speaker, and we doubt that Shanks will be willing to cross oratorical lances with him."

Oldham said in an interview this morning: "It is a bitter disappointment to me. Since he announced his friends have told many malicious stories about me that I wanted explained. I did not invite him to a mud slinging contest, but simply gave him an opportunity to explain to the people."

I might have asked him about that disgraceful record of his as a member of the Kentucky Legislature. His friends have circulated rumors that the Republicans would be able to attack me; that both candidates for Governor would slate against me, and many other underhand insinuations, and I was eager for an opportunity to have their champion to make these charges to my face and answer mine to him. I would not make any in any other manner than direct. After these rumors were proven false and malicious they were printed in newspapers as PAID ADVERTISING, and I would have explained that. I sincerely regret that he has dodged the issue, and cannot see how he could be expected to meet his Republican opponent should he be the nominee and be challenged.

There is no reason that can be given why I will not poll the entire party strength in November and add strength to the ticket, and he knows it. I will welcome the opportunity at any time to meet Ed Morrow or any Republican on earth on the stump in debate anywhere in Kentucky." The Daily Democrat Political Advertisement.

Mr. Ralph Hurt, son of Judge and Mrs. Rodin Hart, who was in the service for over two years, spending most of that time in France, has received his discharge, returning home last Wednesday night. He is looking fine, and was given a hearty welcome. But few discharged soldiers can tell the story of the war more entertainingly than Ralph.

Mr. Tyler Y. Chandler, of Hillsboro, Texas, who visited here six weeks, left for his home last Wednesday morning. He was accompanied by his daughter, Miss Anna Mildred, who spent about a year with her aunt, Mrs. Rollin Hurt. During her stay in Columbia she became acquainted with all the residents, and by her pleasing disposition, made the whole town her friend. She and her father, who was also reared here, have the best wishes of this entire citizenship.

For Sale.

The Columbia and Jamestown Telephone line will be sold to the highest bidder at public auction on 4th day of Aug., 1919, at Columbia, Ky.

The line will be first sold in sections, as follows:

(1) From Columbia to the Holladay place, including a phone at the Holladay place, about four miles.

(2) From the Holladay place to Montpelier, including two phones and a switch. About six miles.

(3) From Montpelier to Liberty Church, about two miles, line and poles only.

(4) Short line at Montpelier, from the store to J. V. Dudley's, including line and poles. From the store to G. A. Bradshaw's, including all line and the poles from the C & J. road to G. A. Bradshaw's, and the line only from the store to W. S. Antle's including two phones.

Then the line will be offered as a whole and which way brings the most will be the sale. Terms cash or negotiable notes. These notes will be either sold or taken out and discontinued, so parties on the line that are interested had better act busy.

Any further information secured call on L. C. Winfrey, Columbia, Ky. 39-2t.

The suit of Nease Gowen was not against the Greensburg Loose Leaf House, but against men who made the loose leaf house their headquarters, and who handled tobacco.

The Greensburg Loose Leaf House was not known in the suit, nor did it have anything to do with it.

GET IN LINE.

Do you know and do you realize that W. H. Hays, Chairman of the National Republican Committee, who says that Woodrow Wilson is a liar, that the League of Nations is an American disgrace, and that the conference at Versailles is an abortion—that this foul-mouthed head of the party in the Nation is writing the Eighth Kentucky District Republicans, urging them to vote for young Swope and against Judge Hardin in the special election for congress next Saturday? He tells them to at least reduce the democratic majority in the 8th district, so that the Republicans will be encouraged to win in this State this fall and in the Nation next year.

Edwin P. Morrow, who is just as much an enemy of Woodrow Wilson and the League of Nations, and just as much a backer of Penrose, Lodge and Sherman, is writing urging them to do the same thing, "so as to make certain" he says, "our victory in November." Doesn't it require supreme gall to ask a good citizen to vote for any sort of a Republican over any kind of a Democrat for such reasons, and for Congress, this year? Isn't it almost an insult to the intelligence of even a Kentucky republican?

You don't have to be a good democrat; you have to be only a halfway good citizen, and if you are, you will hurry to your regular voting place Saturday, August 2nd, and help roll up such a majority for Judge Hardin as will put the Eighth Kentucky District's intelligence and patriotism in the proper light before the rest of the world.—Shelby Record.

DO NOT THINK YOU HAVE DONE ENOUGH FOR YOUR COUNTRY

Rabbi Leon Harrison, Noted Temple Israel Pastor, Pleads for More Service.

Rabbi Leon Harrison, noted pastor of Temple Israel, St. Louis, who has delivered ringing addresses throughout the nation in all war activities, has driven home his first nail in the Government's platform of the Victory Liberty Loan.

"There are some who fear that the public may be luke-warm in this new Victory Loan drive, because they think that the war is over.

"But the war is not really over until the treaty of peace is signed. It is not over until every man in the American Expeditionary Forces has been brought back to his native soil and to his home. It is not over until every sailor that enlisted for the war in the United States Navy shall have been demobilized.

"But in the meantime we must support these millions of sailors and soldiers. We must pay them, and shelter them, and feed them. And we have to pay our bills incidental to the great war, whose battles are now ended, but not its financial consequences.

"Your taxes are not enough, however heavy they may be. The revenue of the Government is far from being sufficient. The American Government is obliged to borrow money to pay its running expenses, because these are still war expenses. We must still support our army and our navy. We must pay the bills for what our Government has ordered during the past year for the victorious conclusion of the great war."

The buying of your Government's obligations, Dr. Harrison says, is not only a fine investment, but a splendid act of patriotism and devotion to the freest government on earth.

Game Is Not Over

Pessimistic talk about the floating of the Victory Liberty Loan? Hasn't the world always had its pessimists? In the hour of supreme crisis, when the final stroke for victory is to be made, is the time the slacker and pessimist gives up the "game."

A baseball enthusiast was approached by one of the world's afflicted—a doubting Thomas—who could not possibly see America going into her pockets and "putting up" for a few billions for another loan.

"It cannot be done," he dolefully concluded.

"It can be done," the other man snapped, his eyes speaking for him the language of the true sporting spirit that may die, but is game to the last ditch.

"You haven't said a word about 'Victory' Loan, but you have been talking about a defeated loan. Do you know how Billy Sunday would answer your argument? And you bet your sweet life Billy is right there with good old American punch too. Here is what he says about it:

"Why, you little simp of perdition, you are quitting the game with two out and two strikes on and the 'batter up.' Put over that last ball and put him out! Give the 'Hun' that last wallop that gets 'the count'!"

Is Billy right? All the world may not always agree with Billy at all times, but all the good old United States knows that he talks good sound horse sense when he puts the baseball punch into the "game" we are playing. The boys played a life and death game on the other side. Are we going to quit the game over here at this critical time?

WATCH BOND BROKER THE

Spending Money to Get U. S. Securities and There's a Reason.

There is a lot of money being spent every day in advertising with the object of separating plain Mr. American from his Liberty Bonds either by offers to buy them outright or trading in wildcat stock for them. Many plain Mr. Americans are rushing in where wise men fear to tread and are "falling" for the advertisements without thought of why the other fellow wants the bonds.

Advertising, especially the kind Liberty Bond brokers are using, costs a lot of money. Where does the buyer get off? Well, he sure he is getting off else he wouldn't advertise. He isn't in business for his health. He is after the money. It's a cinch you are helping him to a big rake-off when you trade or sell your Liberty Bonds. That's sense, isn't it?

If a Liberty Bond is worth, say, $95 to the broker after he has paid for all of his expensive advertising, it certainly is worth par or more than par to the holder. For on top of his advertising expenses the broker maintains costly offices and much help. That's sense, isn't it?

The reason the broker wants the bonds is that he or his clients want to hold them. It's the broker's business to know bond values. He knows that these Liberty Bonds are going to be valuable things—that they are going 'way above par—within a year or two.

Hold them yourself.

Wheat Crop of Billion Bushels

Washington, D. C.—With a wheat crop of over a billion bushels in prospect in the United States this year, the department of Agriculture urging every possible measure be taken to insure the safe storage and handling of the enormous crop. The need for efforts by farmers and elevator companies to market and store the grain with the least possible loss and congestion of traffic is being emphasized. Stacking is suggested by the department as a solution of the problem being a means every farmer can apply. Attention is called by the fact that the farmer is likely to be a gainer by such a process, for wheat that sweats in the stack except during an unusually dry season, will be of better quality than if threshed from the shock.

If wheat is stacked at once after harvest, weather permitting, the farmer may then thresh and market his crop at his convenience, and there is the further advantage that the wheat will not deteriorate should rain come as it would in the shock.

The department urges the farmers to consider the question of providing themselves with storage facilities. The department has specifications for a portable granary, which it will supply on request.

Salvation Army Campaign.

The work of raising money in Kentucky for the Home Service Fund of the Salvation Army of America, by means of which the Army will continue its work among the poor, outcast, befallen and abandoned in the big cities, and relieve the wants of suffering children due to poverty for which they have been in no blame, is now on in Kentucky. It is a movement which ought to be aided by every man, woman and child, who believes in work for humanity. "They that are whole need not a physician, but they that are sick," said the lowly Nazarene, and this doctrine the Salvation Army has been practicing ever since founding of the movement by General William Booth in the slums of London. The Salvation Army has the endorsement of all high Army officials and the soldiers themselves for the work over there and also people of every community in which they have worked. Help this good cause.

There must be system in feeding at all ages. The young especially must be fed with judgment or some part of the body suffers. A man I once knew made a close test in this matter of feeding. He separated a drove of chicks, hatched from sister and brother eggs the parent stock of the best health and fed alike. At two months of age the separation of this flock was made. One flock ran broadcast with the older chickens, were fed regularly a certain amount of feed, though not enough but that they wanted more and hunted for it. The other flock was penned and pushed into

THREE GOOD INVESTMENTS

You let two of them pass you by, but the third one still offers you the opportunity to invest in an oil company officered by former Kentuckians whose honesty and ability are unquestioned. Their reputation and successful record mean security for your money.

1—TEXAS CHIEF was your first chance to make a large return on your money. This company has a gusher, and paid a dividend of 300 per cent. July 15th. This well was brought in about May 25, 1919. Rather a remarkable investment wasn't it? And just think five more wells are to be drilled on the 25 acre lease further increasing the income. Some people in Kentucky were wise enough to buy this stock, and one of these dividend checks can be seen at Jeffries Hotel, in Columbia.

2—HARTFORD was the second chance you had to make another good investment. This well was on the oil sand ten days ago, and is undoubtedly another gusher, as 20 feet of rich oil sand was reported by the driller. This company's stock sold for two and one-half when the sand was found and should be worth far more now, and will be another big dividend payer.

3—UNITED CHIEF can still be bought and now is the time to buy it before the price advances. It has 77½ acres in the great gusher field near Texas Chief Hartford and many others. Theo. Combest, vice president of Texas Chief, and a director of the Hartford, is president of the United Chief. A. C. Dulaney, vice president of Texas Chief, and Sec'y.-Treas. of the Hartford, is Sec'y.-Treas. of the United Chief. These are men who stand high in the esteem of all who know them, and their record in Texas Chief and Hartford certainly assure you of a square deal in the United Chief.

Well No. 1 will begin immediately on the 50 acre tract in Block 833, between Texas Chief and the Cauble Oil Co. Well No. 2 will be drilled on the 7½ acre tract in Block 820 between Burk Waggoner and Ramming wells. The company's other 20 acres is one and one-half miles from Red River opposite the Texas Chief. The company receives 7-8 of all oil, and two wells will be drilled. Figure for yourself your profits when we bring in good wells on this large acreage. Our driller is confident of a good well and we are betting strong on it too.

Remember one good investment is worth a lifetime of saving. United Chief with its large acreage in the greatest oil field in the world, and its strong, clean, and successful management offers you a good investment. GRAB YOUR opportunity to-day. Most of the stock that was placed on the market is sold, so you should see the agent, or mail the coupon at once.

SOME CAMPAIGN
FALSEHOODS EXPOSED

A Statement By Governor Black

TO THE DEMOCRATS OF KENTUCKY:

I believe I have been more extensively misrepresented in this campaign than any candidate in the history of Kentucky politics, with the possible exception of Gov. Goebel, whom Judge Carroll, in his speech at Mayfield, July 21, admitted he refused to support. A righteous cause, however, will withstand many assaults, and I have relied to a great extent in this campaign upon the intelligence of the voters to distinguish between fact and falsehood, and to be influenced in their opinion only by that which is true. My faith in the people has received ample justification in the fact that the rank and file of the Democratic voters are for me in this race. The machine politicians are doing all within their power to encompass my defeat. Indeed, the race has resolved itself into a contest between the people who love clean government and the professional politicians, whose interests are selfish, and whose motives are sinister.

That the voters may not be taken advantage of in selecting a Democratic nominee for Governor, there are some flagrant falsehoods being circulated throughout the State, over the signature of M. M. Logan, Judge Carroll's campaign manager, which I shall let the truth dispose of as follows:

STATEMENT NO. 1.

In my speech at Hopkinsville, Ky., July 22, I said I had been informed that M. M. Logan wrote to T. O. Turner, Judge Carroll's reputed campaign manager in Trigg county, in substance as follows: "Rest easy or sit steady in the boat. If Carroll is elected, the appointees of Gov. Stanley will be taken care of."

In a telegram received by me from M. M. Logan, he alleges he never wrote such a letter, and asks me to prove my statement or withdraw it. My proof is contained in the following affidavit by the Hon. J. Frank Ladd, a prominent farmer of Trigg county, and the Hon. John T. King, County Attorney of Trigg county:

"STATE OF KENTUCKY,
COUNTY OF CHRISTIAN } } Set.

The affiants, J. Frank Ladd and John T. King, say that they are citizens and residents of Trigg county, Kentucky; that about the middle of June, 1919, they saw a letter written by M. M. Logan to T. O. Turner, of Cadiz, Ky., in which the said Logan stated to the said Turner in substance: "Rest easy, or sit steady in the boat--if Carroll is nominated the Stanley appointees will hold their places."

Therefore, I refuse to withdraw the statement made by me in my Hopkinsville speech.

STATEMENT NO. 2.

In a recently published advertisement, headed: "Black's Political Record," and signed by M. M. Logan, said Logan states I was a delegate to the Republican Convention in Louisville in 1903, when my brother, John A. Black, was nominated for State Treasurer, and that I became a follower of the Republican ticket thereafter. I was never a delegate to a Republican Convention in my life, and do not know of a man in Kentucky other than M. M. Logan, who, knowing my lifelong service to Democracy, would be willing to subscribe to such a perversion of the truth. The following affidavit, which is signed by W. H. McDonald, editor of the Masonic Home Journal; Dr. William Carson Black, ex-Representative from Knox county; J. R. Jones, ex-Sheriff of Knox county; John Parker, ex-County Court Clerk; and W. R. Lay, ex-County Attorney, refutes the statement that I was a delegate to the Republican State Convention in 1903, or a follower of the Republican ticket thereafter:

"STATE OF KENTUCKY }
COUNTY OF KNOX } Set.

The affiants, W. H. McDonald, W. C. Black, J. R. Jones, John Parker and W. R. Lay, state that they are Republicans in politics, and have been such all their lives; that they are residents of Barbourville, Knox County, Kentucky, except the affiant, W. H. McDonald, who now resides in Louisville, Kentucky, and that they are well acquainted with Governor James D. Black, who is making a campaign for the Democratic nomination for Governor. They state that they were delegates from Knox County, to the Republican State Convention held in Louisville, Kentucky, on July 17, 1903, at which convention Morris B. Belknap was nominated for Governor, and John A. Black, of Barbourville, was nominated for Treasurer. They state that the said James D. Black was not a delegate from Knox County to that convention and did not attend said convention. They say that James D. Black has been a consistent Democrat in politics as long as affiants can remember.

They make this affidavit in the interest of the truth, and in view of the fact that certain persons are undertaking to disseminate a falsehood against the said James D. Black by saying that he was a delegate to the aforesaid convention.

Notary Public, Knox County, Ky."

STATEMENT NO. 3.

In the same advertisement, "Black's Political Record," the said Logan states I "made a loan of $2,500 to Caleb Powers, then under indictment." The truth is I never loaned Mr. Powers a cent while he was under indictment, or at any other time. But some five or six years ago, and while Mr. Powers was a member of Congress, I loaned to Dr. Samuel Bennett, a cousin of Mr. Powers, $7,500. At the time I made said loan to Dr. Bennett, said Bennett was making extensive real estate purchases in Southeastern Kentucky. Some time after the loan to said Bennett, by some arrangement agreeable to himself and Mr. Powers, Mr. Powers agreed to, and did assume a portion of said $7,500 loan, amounting to $2,500. But this was not while Mr. Powers was under indictment, as Logan states, but was while Mr. Powers was a member of Congress.

In the appendix of the Congressional Record, page 140, a list of Caleb Powers' indebtedness is given by Mr. Powers, which contains the following items in Mr. Powers' own language: "To Judge J. D. Black, Barbourville (borrowed by Dr. Bennett,) $2,500."

Powers' own statement shows that said $2,500 was "borrowed by Dr. Bennett," as explained above by me, and M. M. Logan purposely refrains from stating that truth, and in so doing, the Congressional Record convicts him of a deliberate attempt to fool the Democrats of Kentucky while pretending to give them the truth. This fabrication is Logan's clumsy attempt to make Kentucky Democrats believe I was financially assisting Powers while Carroll was bolting Goebel. My, what a clever politician you are, Mr. Logan!

I have an abiding faith in the integrity of the voters of this State, and I do not believe they will be misled by the character of campaign that is being waged against me in my race for the Democratic nomination for Governor. I have been over the State, and acquainted with the sentiment of the people, and I feel absolutely certain that on August 2, I shall be nominated by a substantial majority.

Thanking my friends for their loyal support, I am
Very respectfully,

JAMES D. BLACK.
